Children's
furniture series
TROGEN
grows together
with your child.

TROGEN was designed with three things in mind:

children

This furniture is crafted of sturdy solid pine and the surface has been treated with wax which makes it both very durable and smooth to the touch.

The designs encourage kids to play, help spark their imaginations, and are rugged enough to handle the activity of children.

Because kids sometimes forget to be careful, all the necessary safety fittings are included.

parents

Timeless designs and durable construction let parents relax in the knowledge that they can use this furniture for years to come.

As children grow, the furniture easily adapts to the needs of a toddler, junior and teen. It's easy to rearrange and add on to.

IKEA designed the low prices to help your budget go farther.

the environment

First, we insist that our suppliers be environmentally conscious in their work and we encourage that they reduce waste, recycle, and reduce pollution.

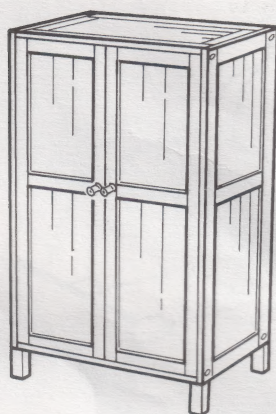

Wax was chosen as a surface treatment because it is durable and environmentally friendly both during production and in your home.

In the long run, when your children are grown, every piece of this furniture could even be recycled because it's all made of natural materials.
